

59 Certified Community Development Financial Institutions as of 10/31/2010

The following organizations have been certified by the Community Development Financial Institutions Fund (Fund) as Native Community Development Financial Institutions (Native CDFIs). The organizations are presented alphabetically by state and city.

Certification as a Native CDFI means that an organization meets the CDFI eligibility requirements and directs more than 50% of its activities to native communities and/or native persons. The CDFI eligibility requirements are set forth in the CDFI program regulations at 12 CFR §1805.200 and are more fully described at 12 CFR § 1805.201. These requirements relate to an organization being a legally existing entity, having a primary mission of promoting community development, principally serving and maintaining accountability to an eligible target market(s), being a financing entity, providing development services, and not being either a government entity or controlled by a government entity.

Organizations may apply for certification at any time. Once certified, an organization's certification lasts for three years from the date of certification. A certified organization should submit its application for recertification no later than three months prior to the certification expiry date. As long as an organization continues to meet all certification requirements, there is no limit to the number of times an applicant may be recertified. Organizations seeking certification or recertification may complete the CDFI certification application available on the Fund's web site (www.cdfifund.gov).

If you do not see an organization on this list, call the Fund at (202) 622-8662 to see if the organization has recently been certified or is under review.
